

We're in this together, but it's all about you.

The intensity of transformation work can easily overshadow why it's happening. Developers operate at a rigorous pace with constant iteration – and even their own vocabulary.

At 8 Penny Labs, “agile” is an attitude rather than a buzzword. Bridging technical demands and customer expectations at every turn ensures progress remains rooted in your desired business outcomes.

“8 Penny's development resources feel like we're hiring our own people.”
